Dear Tim,

12th June, 2026

Hi How are you? Thanks for your letter. The weather in Hong Kong is different in each season. I like winter best. It is cold and dry. I usually wear a thick coat and a scarf. On windy days, I like to stay indoors and read books. I like to drink hot milk too.

My favourite festival is Chinese New Year because I like getting lucky red packets. I like delicious rice cakes and I usually visit my grandparents at their home. I love my family very much.

Please write soon

Love,

Trishleen

Picnic Day

3A Subika

It is Sunday morning. Eric's dad says, "It's warm and sunny today. Where do you want to go, Eric?" "I want to go to the country park!" says Eric excitedly. Eric's mum puts some fresh bread, juicy sausages, bananas and sweet jam in a big picnic bag. They go to the country park by bus, chatting happily along the way.

In Spirit Country Park, they have a picnic under a shady tree. The sausages are delicious! Eric says with a big smile. "I like my bread with jam," Dad says. "I will have a banana," Mum says. They are excited to have a wonderful picnic together in the fresh air.

Suddenly a playful brown dog runs up and takes away their sausages. They are shocked because their lovely picnic is ruined. "Oh no! Give me back my sausages!" Eric shouts. "The dog ruined our picnic!" Mum says.

They chase the dog around the park and finally get the sausages back but they feel bad for the hungry dog, so they give it some food. Let's give him some sausages! Eric says kindly. The owner of the dog comes running and says thank you to Eric's family. They feel happy to help the dog and make a new friend.

Lucy's visit to the forest

By 3B Audrey

Once upon a time, there was a girl named Lucy. She lived near the forest with her mum. One Saturday morning, Mum wanted to bake bread, so she asked Lucy to collect some sticks near the forest. 'Lucy, please help me get some sticks so I can light a fire,' said Mum. Lucy replied, 'Okay Mum, I'll go now.'

Lucy went to the forest and found many sticks near the river. Suddenly, she tripped! All her sticks fell into the river and were washed away.

Then a fairy appeared from the river. The fairy asked, 'What happened, little girl?' Lucy replied sadly, 'I hurt my foot, and I lost my basket too!' The fairy held up a basket full of gold and asked, 'Is this your basket?' Lucy said, 'No, that's not mine. My basket is full of sticks.' Then the fairy held up a basket full of sticks and asked, 'Is this your basket?' Lucy said, 'Yes, that's mine.'

Since she told the truth, the fairy gave her both baskets.
In the end, Lucy came home with both baskets. Mum was happy and excited. Lucy learned that honesty always brings good rewards.

How I can improve my diet

P. 4A Manan

It is important to have a balanced diet. Here are the ways I would like to improve mine.

First, I don't eat enough meat, vegetables and fruit. For example, I only ate a few vegetables, a few cherries and a lot of meat last night. I should eat more vegetables and fruit. I should eat all food groups in the correct amounts every day.

Second, I eat too much fried food. Every day, I eat fried fish balls for snacks. I also eat fried drumsticks for dinner. I know it has a lot of oil and it makes us fat, but I just can't stop myself.

So to improve my diet, I need to eat enough fruit and meat, less fried food and sugary food. I need to eat healthier snacks such as fruit salad or vegetables. I hope after you read this, you would like to have a balanced diet too!

How to Improve My Diet

There are some food groups that ^{are} good for us and also bad for us. Grain products are good for us because they give us energy. Fruits and vegetables are also good for us because they have a lot of vitamins and minerals which protect our bodies from illnesses.

Fried food is bad for us because it contains too much oil. Salty food is also bad for our heart.

Every day, I eat sausages for breakfast. Too many sausages contain a lot of oil. This makes us fat and is bad for us. I only eat a little lettuce every day. Last night I only ate a little lettuce and I felt hungry, so I ate a few snacks that were unhealthy.

I need to eat more fruits and vegetables. I need to eat two pieces of fruit and a half bowl of vegetables. I also need to eat enough healthy food so that I feel full and avoid eating unhealthy snacks

My Favourite Holiday Destination

My Favourite Holiday Destination

My favourite holiday destination is Britain. I have been to Britain once. It is an amazing place. When I was in Britain, I went to loads of places. I visited amusement parks, London, Reading, Blackgang Chine - world of imagination, and River Tees. I also went to many other places, but I forgot their names. In the amusement park, I saw bright lights and heard children laughing. I also saw a giant robot dinosaur which was scary since I was only three years old. It looked really real as well. Then, it started roaring so I panicked a bit.

I also went on an sky adventure activity with my mum being next to me. It was pretty scary because there weren't any seatbelts throughout the whole ride. There was also a rollercoaster that my mum wanted to go on with her siblings but I didn't let her go because I was worried about her safety.

I also tried loads of food there but the ones I like the most were fish and chips and English breakfast. They were very delicious and I ate a lot as well. But my favourite food throughout the entire trip was Shepherd's pie. It was pretty cheap as well. The restaurant owner also gave a discount for people who are five years old or under. How nice and generous the British were!

The weather there was nice because we could have snowfall fights and make snowmen. The cold air always made my cheeks red and my hands felt numb. That was a feeling I could never get in Hong Kong.

I think Britain is an amazing place because the houses there are big but I still prefer Hong Kong more because of the safety, culture and food. Hong Kong is very convenient and clean. I will never get bored of Hong Kong because I have lots of friends and people I know here. I would like to go to Britain again because I can meet my relatives, play with my cousins and have lots of fun there.

A Person I Admire

Robert Downey Jr. is my role model because of his work as Iron Man / Tony Stark and his inspiring comeback. I admire him for being talented, confident and funny.

He started as a child actor in the 1970s and became a major film star from the 1980s to the present. His jobs are an actor and a producer.

His talents include strong acting range, improvisation and great comedic timing. He earned attention for Chaplin, revitalized his career and made Iron Man iconic. He helped launch the Marvel Cinematic Universe and co-runs Team Downey.

He is confident and charming, with quick wit that makes people laugh. He is also resilient and determined when facing problems. Sometimes he can seem arrogant, but he learns from his mistakes and becomes more responsible and mature.

From him I learned to never give up, take responsibility and keep improving. "I'm a man who's trying to do the right thing."

It is a favourite for many because it is full of fun and creates fond memories with loved ones. Dashain is the most important festival in Nepal, honoring the victory of good over evil. During this time, people fly kites as a symbol of sending messages to the rain god to stop the rain, and they enjoy traditional bamboo swings that represent joy and community spirit. Tihar is another significant festival, celebrated to honor animals like crows, dogs, and cows to worship Goddess Laxmi for wealth, and to strengthen the bond between brothers and sisters. Homes are beautifully decorated with lamps, candles, and intricate ground-rice "rangolis". Finally, Buddha Jayanti commemorates the birth, enlightenment, and passing of Siddhartha Gautama, the Buddha, observed through temple visits, meditations, and offerings.

I love Nepal for its stunning scenery and natural charm. Despite political instability, the country remains warm. Its landscapes, wildlife, and celebrations together create a place that is both beautiful and full of life. I am proud to be Nepali, and I hope you will have the chance to visit Nepal one day.

Give a speech to ask for help

Good morning, everyone. Have you wondered why you have seen a sudden spike in people sleeping on the streets after an earthquake? Last week, I watched a news report about the large number of victims caused by earthquakes, and it was devastating to see how much damage was done in such a short time. I want to discuss the ways we can help these victims of earthquakes and support them during difficult times.

Since earthquakes have led to many victims losing their homes, they don't have enough money to rebuild their homes, stay at hotels, or buy necessities like food, water, and clothing. Many families lose everything they own, including their jobs and source of income, resulting in a rise in the homelessness population and making their daily lives extremely challenging.

We can help these people by setting up tents or shelters for the homeless to live in and performing acts of charity, such as donating money, food, drinks and clothing. Volunteers can also provide emotional support and help distribute supplies. These actions can help make the situations that the victims have to go through much easier and give them hope.

I hope we have learned about the difficulties the victims of earthquakes go through, and I hope that we all can give a helping hand to the homeless people and make a difference in their lives. Thank you.

Rainforest, East Central Africa

29th April, 2026

Dear humans,

We are a group of mountain gorillas, and we live in the rainforest in East Central Africa. Recently, our population has been rising, which gives us hope. However, although there are at least 1,000 of us, we are still considered endangered animals. This is because female gorillas only give birth to one baby every 4 to 6 years. Our population grows very slowly, so every gorilla is important. Sadly, we still face many threats caused by human activities. If people continue to harm us and our home, we may become extinct one day.

The biggest threat to us is deforestation. People cut down many trees to get wood, make space for farms, and build houses or roads. When trees are cut down, we lose our home. We also lose the leaves, fruits, and plants that we need for food. Without enough food and shelter, it becomes very hard for us to survive.

Our second threat is war. In some countries, fighting and wars happen near the forests where we live. Wars do not only hurt humans; they also harm animals like us. Loud noises, weapons, and destruction can scare us and destroy our habitat. Sometimes, people enter the forest to hide or look for resources, and this can put us in danger too.

Another serious threat is climate change. When people burn too much fuel from cars, factories, and machines, harmful gases are released into the air. These gases trap heat and make the Earth warmer. If the weather changes too much, the plants we eat may not grow well. This means we may have less food in the future.

Dear humans, please help us before it is too late. You can protect forests, plant more trees, use less paper, and support wildlife charities. You can also tell others about mountain gorillas and why we need help.

We hope you will listen to our story and protect our home. If humans work together, we can live safely in the rainforest for many more years.

Yours faithfully,

The Mountain Gorillas
